

Developmental Services Worker (Apprentice)

Ontario College Certificate

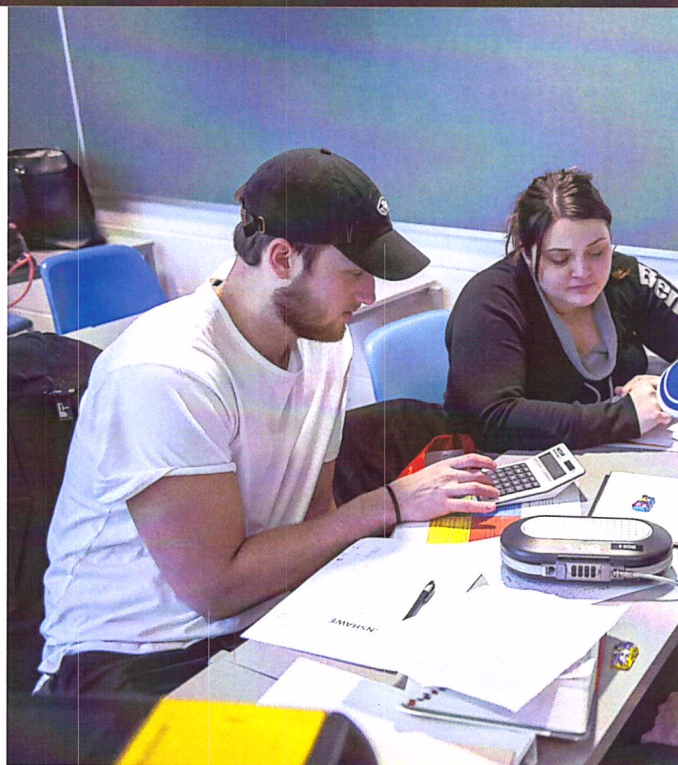

"I chose the DSW program because I find helping others to be the most amazing feeling in the world. Fanshawe has an amazing student-oriented atmosphere and it is my pleasure to be a part of that in the coming year."

-Jessica Roos

What is the Apprenticeship option?

The Developmental Services Worker Apprenticeship option is an on-the-job training program for employees in a DSW career that don't have the DSW credential. There are two components to the DSW Apprenticeship Program, on the job training and academic education. At Fanshawe, the DSW Apprenticeship program offers 780 hours of academic curriculum through 20 courses offered on a part-time basis. Classes are between 8am and 4pm and live-streamed to students across the province. The academic curriculum embodies current philosophy of support and practices in the Developmental Services sector.

FANSHAWE

Is Developmental Services Apprenticeship for you?

Your courses will focus on disabilities, dual diagnosis, interpersonal skills, health, pharmacology, teaching and intervention strategies. Upon completion of the DSW Apprenticeship Certificate, you can complete bridging courses to obtain your DSW Diploma. You'll also have the opportunity to transfer credits for further education at universities such as Ryerson or Western.

DSW Apprenticeship students are subsidized by the Ministry of Labour, Training and Skills Development.
